Japanese Tea House

Location

Kyoto, Japan

Area

30 m2

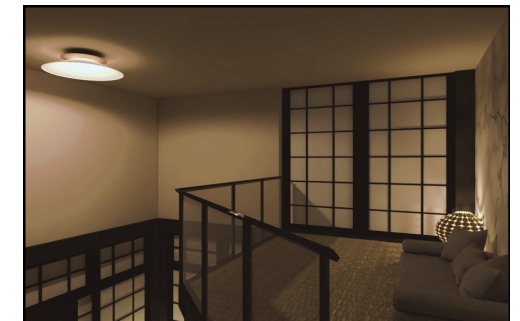

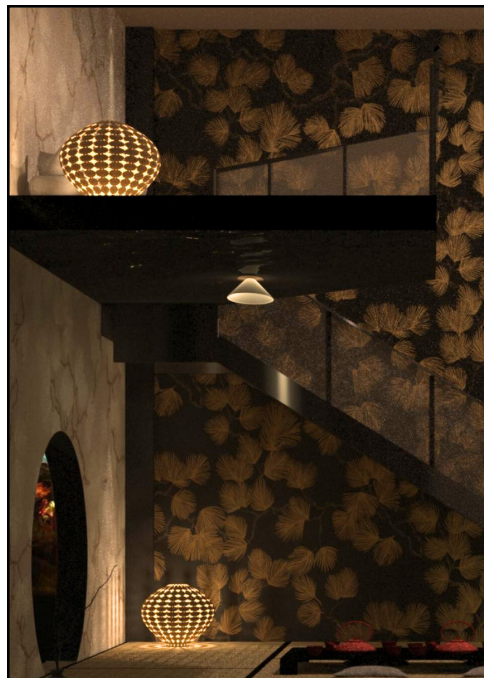

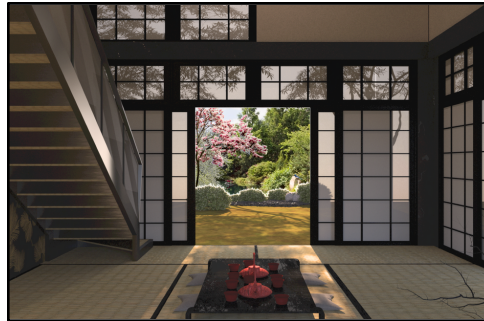

Concept

Nestled in expansive gardens, this design in a new development is a poetic homage to Japanese cultural heritage. Japanese timber infuses life into the staircase, fostering a tactile connection to the land. Traditional fusuma, adorned with translucent paper, allows natural light while preserving serene privacy. Evolving with daylight, Japanese floral wallpapers grace the walls like an ephemeral masterpiece. Tatami mats ground the space in tea ceremony rituals. The roof shape blends traditional forms with a contemporary edge, offering an intimate setting for tea gatherings, honouring tradition and embracing modernity.
